

A Date With The Lamb

“The Bible says that Passover is on the 14th of Aviv. My Jewish calendar lists Passover on the 15th of Nisan (another name for Aviv). Why do these not match, and who is right? In order to find the answer, one must know a little of the Hebraic understanding of how to measure the day. The first step is determining when the day begins. The answer we can find in the first few verses of Genesis.”
